Information for Registration with Nature Alliance Family Day Care Service

What is Family Day Care?

Family Day Care is a child care service that is provided in the Educators family home or approved venue. Both the Educator and the premises will be assessed in accordance with the National Educational and Care Regulations and the National Quality Standards and will have met all requirements to be a part of Nature Alliance Family Day Care Service.

Educators are small business owners and are responsible for their own business, financial, taxation and marketing requirements. It is strongly recommended that you work with an accountant to ensure that you get the most from your business.

Impact of Family Day Care on your own family?

Operating a Family Day Care business will have some impact on your home and your family. As a member of Nature Alliance Family Day Care Service you are responsible for the supervision of the children in your care, this responsibility cannot be allocated to a family member.

An important consideration is the privacy of your own family members and how you will restrict children's access to these areas.

While children are in your care you must ensure that the environment both inside and outside is free from the use of tobacco, illicit drugs and alcohol.

Number of children to be cared for

The number of children you can have in your care at any one time is determined by the National Education and Care Regulations.

Regulations state that an Educator working in Family Day Care can care for a maximum of 7 children at any one time. No more than four (4) of the children can be kindergarten age or under, this includes the Educators own children aged less than 13 years of age.

The National Quality Framework

The Council of Australian Governments (COAG) has implemented a new system for Early Education and Care Services in Australia. The National Quality Framework was introduced in January 2012

The National Quality Framework consists of

1. The Education and Care National Law
2. The Education and care National Regulations
3. The National Quality Standards
4. The Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF)

All approved Early Education and Care Services in Australia must work within the National Law and Regulations and meet the National Quality Standards.

The Educator is required to gather information and make written records and observations of children's learning and development. This will be used as evidence for the National Quality Standard and forms a part of the ongoing planning cycle for individual children.

The national body responsible for the implementation of the National Quality frameworks is the Australian Children’s Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA). The National Law and the National Education and Care Regulations as well as other interesting and relevant information can be accessed on the ACECQA website www.acecqa.gov.au

Qualifications

The National Education and Care Regulations state that as from January 2014 an Educator must hold a minimum qualification of a Certificate III in Children’s Services.

At the time of commencement, the Educator must be actively working towards or hold this qualification.

Possible income

As small business operators Educators are able to set their own fees. It is difficult to estimate what income and expenses and individual educator will have as each situation is different. The Educators Fee Schedule must be approved by Nature Alliance FDC prior to commencing.

It is strongly recommended that you develop a budget for your business and review this regularly, monitoring your income and expenses. If you are working with an accountant they will be able to assist you in this area. We also have some information in the Orientation training that will assist with this.

We will provide you with a copy of “My Home My Business”. This is a booklet that has been specifically written for Family Day Care Educators and offers information on budgets and fee setting.

Nature Alliance Family Day Care require Educators to work a minimum of 3 days per week.

Business name, applying for an ABN and GST

A business name is the name that someone uses when in trade. In Western Australia any person who is carrying out a business in a name other than their own is required to register that name. This enables the proprietors of a business to be identified.

An individual may trade under their own name for example, Jo Citizen but must register a business name if there is an addition to that name for example Jo Citizen Family Day Care.

Educators will need to apply for an Australian Business Number (ABN) and it is strongly recommended that you register for GST. You should discuss this with your accountant.
